TEXARKANA

COACH EARL OXFORD

To the person who has been with many of us since the sixth grade, who has made us laugh with his witty remarks, who has spread school spirit, who knows our weaknesses but likes us just the same—we the seniors, with sincere affection and respect, dedicate the '61 Porker.

Dear Gary,
Best wishes to
a real darling boy.
I hope we have some classes together next year!
Love,
Suzanne

Sammy J. Lamm

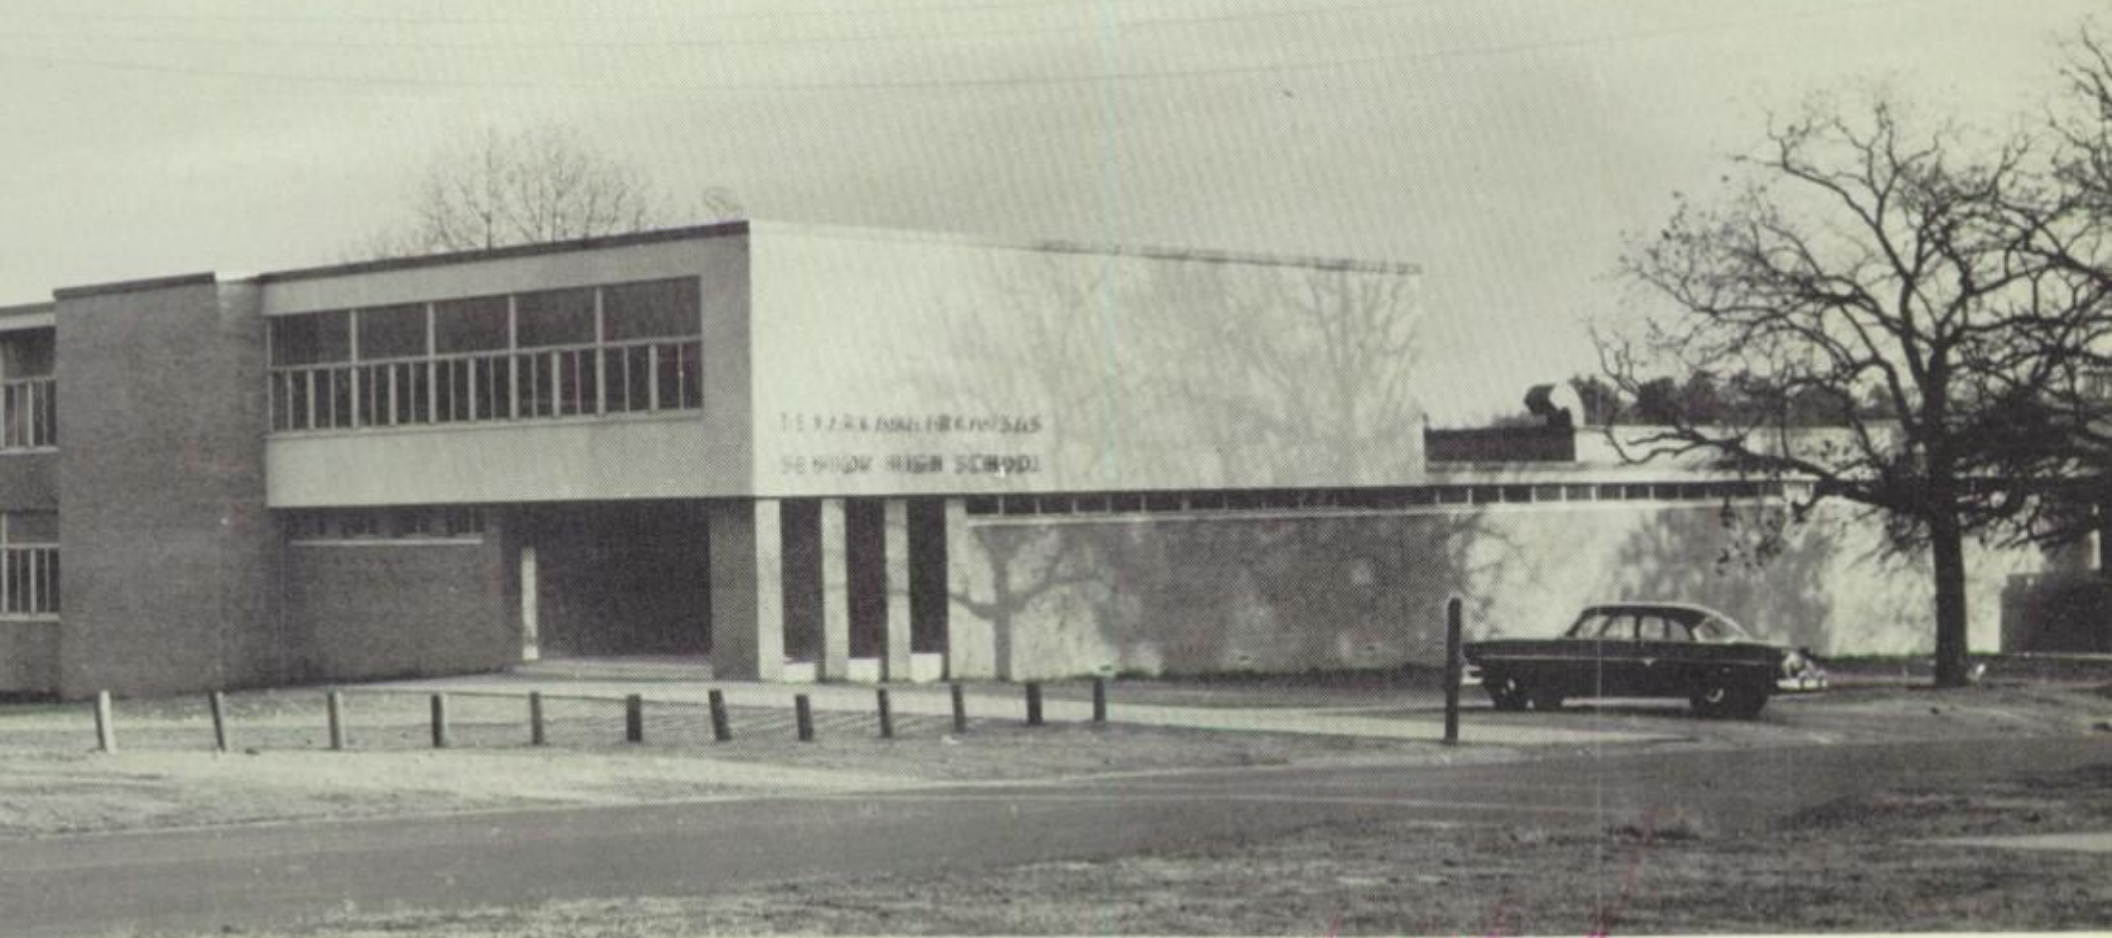

We of the annual staff believe that there is one today: Ability. The ability to fit into the various phases of school life will be the challenge of the changing world of tomorrow.

We recognize that there are varying degrees of ability. Some students develop their God-given abilities to a greater degree than others. For some it is the strength and stamina to carry a football; for others, the brains needed to excel on exams; for others, the looks and charm necessary to make people happy.

However, everyone has a chance either to use his abilities or to let them go. The poet Pope who said, "Act well your part, first chance you get, but never let it go by."

It has been said that man strives constantly in darkness. We strive in darkness, but we strive to be in the light.

AHS Teachers Find Time For Fun

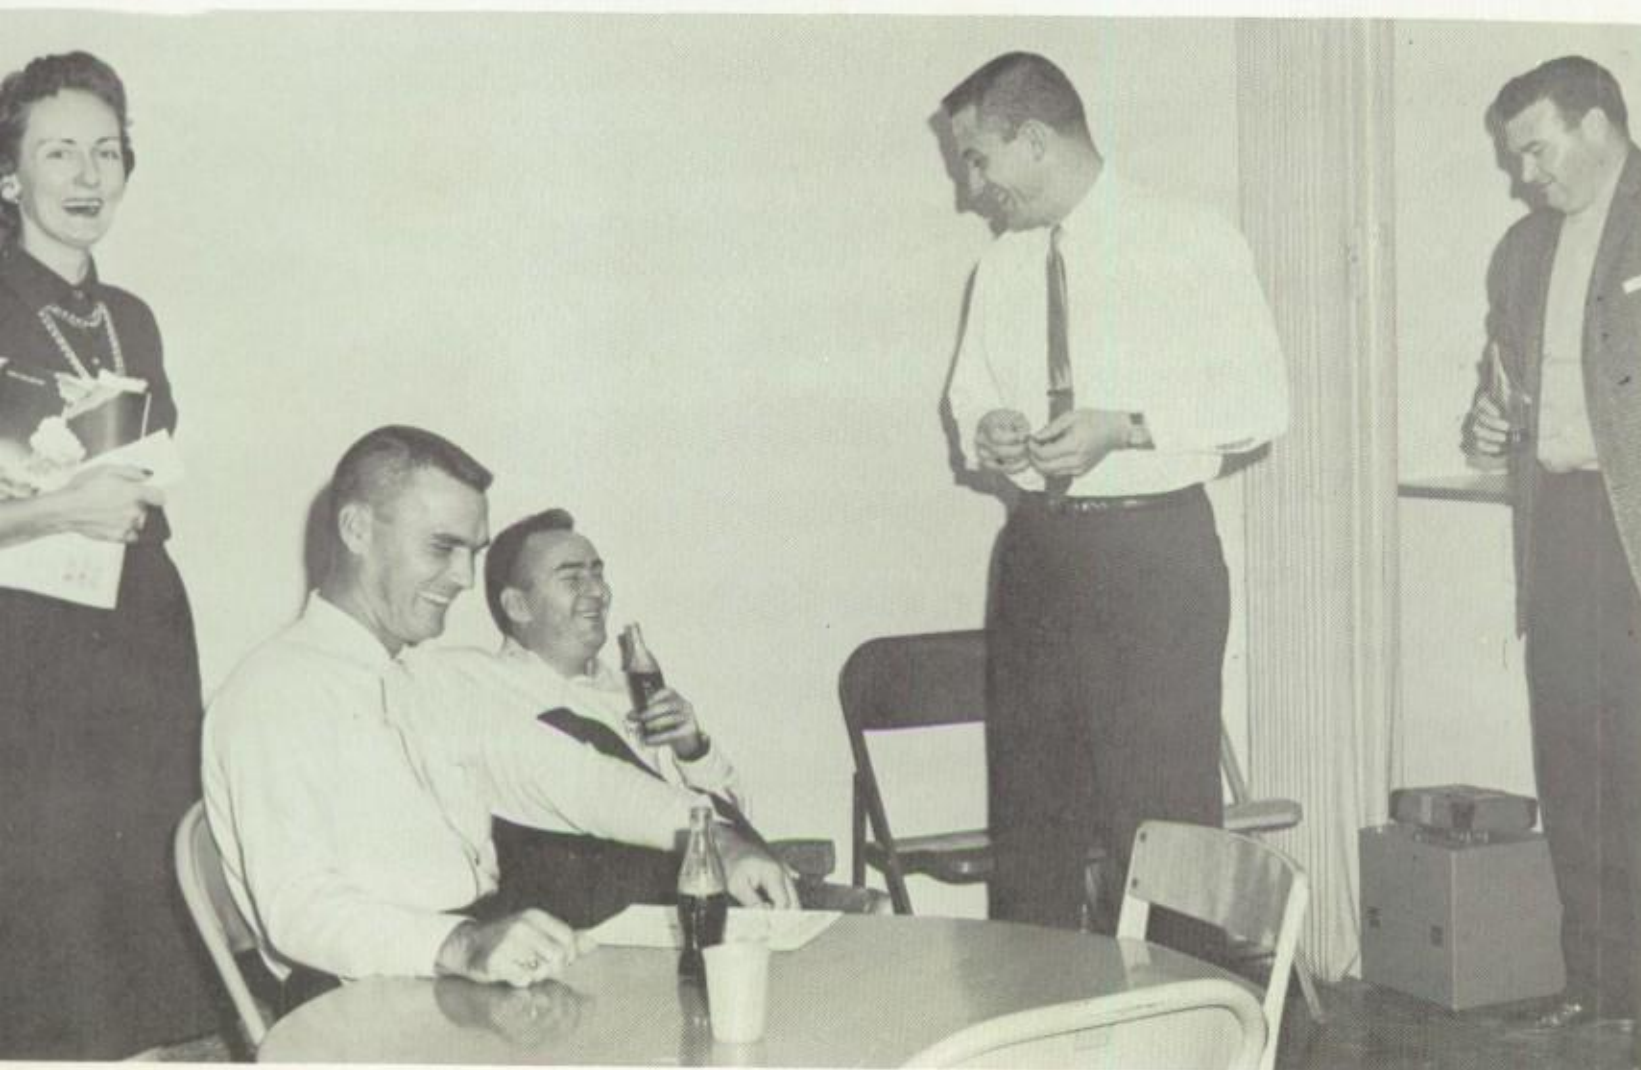

Awaiting the arrival of the Home-coming Royalty.

Could it be a test coming off the press?

Faculty troupe present a "drama" at S. C. Variety show.

Classes

The primary purpose of going to school is to learn. From the sophomore who dissects his frog correctly, to the junior who figures out the tough plane geometry problem to the senior who writes a good feature story for the paper, each feels a sense of pleasure when he has done his assignment well.

It takes more than one kind of ability to succeed in one's daily classes. A student needs the ability to listen to the teacher, to grasp what he is saying, and to ask pertinent questions, and to think independently. Te must do his assignments carefully and cultivate good study habits, and he must be honest at all times.

But even if a person follows all these rules, he may still lack the most important ability of all; that of getting along with his teachers and fellow students. An average student who is well-liked and respected will go much farther in life than a selfish bookworm who cheats or acts unfriendly, even though the latter may have exceptionally high grades. The students at AHS show ability in their daily classes by their persistent efforts, co-operation, good character, and consideration of others.

Dear Gary,

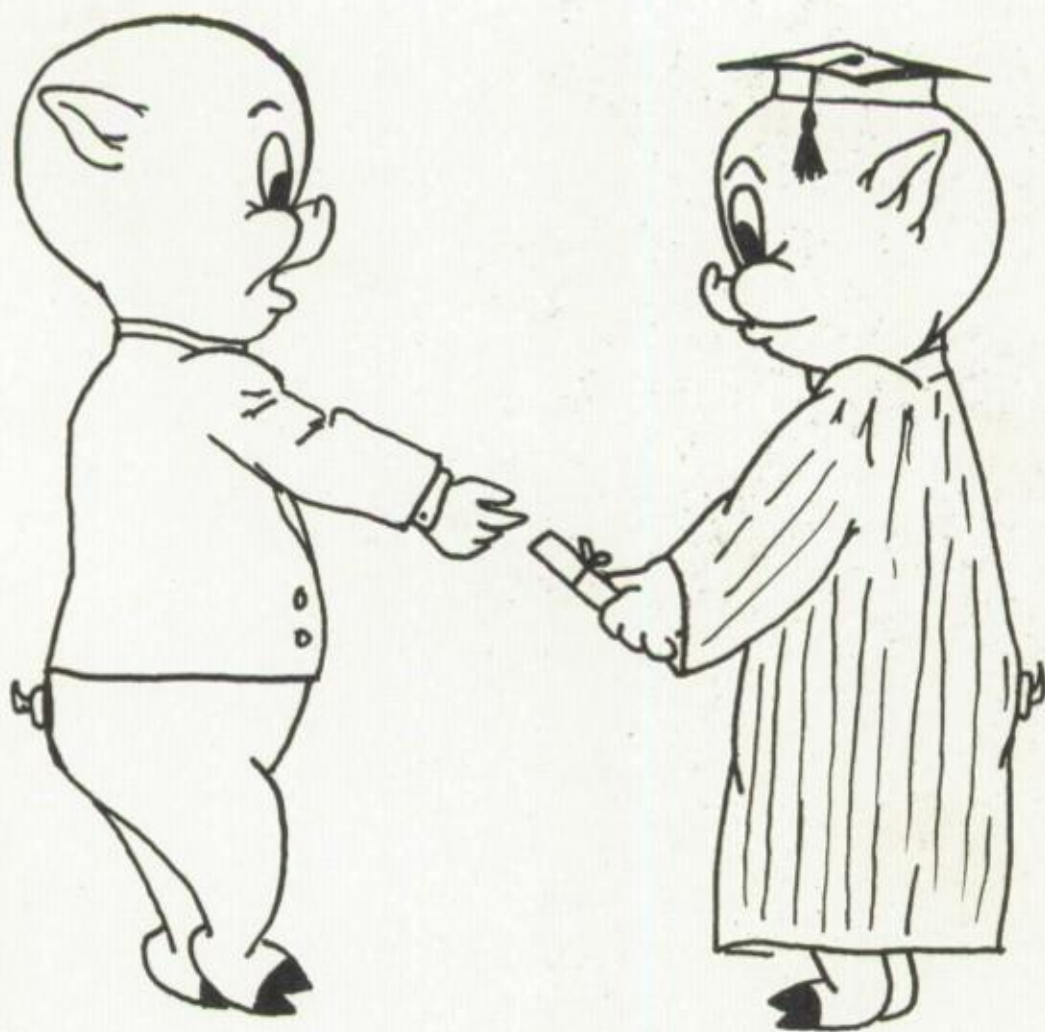

Well, it's almost over. I know you're going to miss all of us next year - h2. Gary, you're a great guy. I've seen times when I wanted to kick you good, but all in all I think you're the best. Have lots of fun next year. I'll expect to be reading lots in the news papers about the Basketball

*Dear Larry a good year a good senior. I hope to see you should be a senior!
I wish you a lot of luck
in the coming year.
May you always have a lot of luck.

Annickellum*

Want to know who said all those dirty things about you in the class prophecy? See the Sr. Prophecy writers!

Porker Staff members worked hard to meet the deadlines.

Seniors helped decorate the Student Council's beautiful Christmas tree, which the students furnished with gifts for the needy.

Months before graduation orders were taken for senior invitations, calling cards, etc.

N NUMEROUS ACTIVITIES

The landscaping project sponsored by the Student Council had the hearty approval of all students and faculty. Robert Giles, Student Council Treasurer, explains the project to the seniors.

Not a game of tidly-winks — a search for a contact lens.

The challenging world of science unfolds for the physics students on experiment days.

Seniors looked very nice on dress-up day . . .

but not quite so nice on mess-up day!

Careful planning makes successful plays.

Several seniors help in the counselor's office.

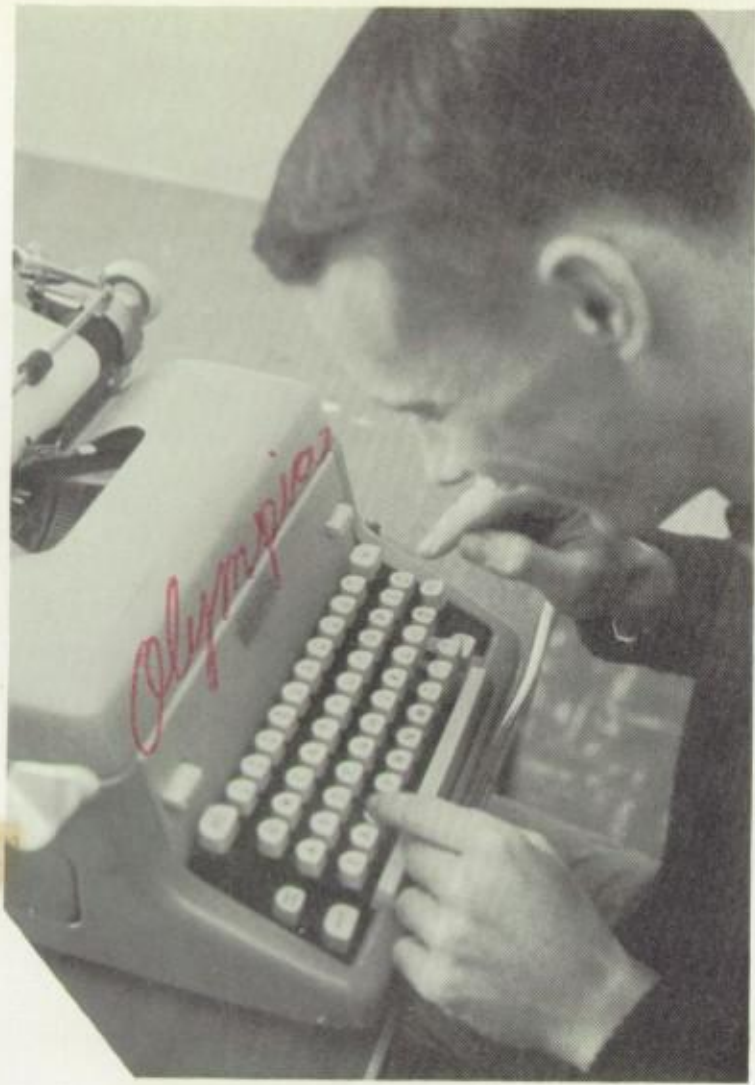

Behind bars now — the strain of being in the senior play was too much for Aubrey!

The Razorback Band went to the airport several times to greet visiting dignitaries.

These senior girls serve as secretaries in the local elementary schools.

A close-up of the "mad typist".

All play and no work is not good for the drawing grade.

Third period Speech class entertains fourth period class.

"Buy a ticket to the senior play" was the battle cry of the ticket committee.

"Galloping Grandma" entertains seniors.

Lettermen are measured for their new football jackets.

Ability in Personalities

The most cherished ability a person can have is that of winning friends. Few people are more miserable than those who do not have friends, and few people are happier than those who have friends. Who are the few people who have the knack of making friends? Those who know that "the only way to have a friend is to be one"; who give of themselves freely to others; who understand the art of getting along with people; in short, those who have personality.

There are many personalities at AHS, too many to mention all of them here. But we have tried to present some of the main ones to you. There are the Porker Beauties, who are judged not only on beauty but also on charm, which is just another word for personality. Cheerleaders and Homecoming Royalty, and anyone else who is elected by fellow students, need plenty of personality, not just pretty faces, to attain their coveted positions. And the Senior Favorites, the "Who's Who" of the Senior Class, have received this high honor because they are friendly and considerate of others — because they have good personalities.

In the following pages we have featured outstanding personalities. But as you look over this section, bear in mind the fact that really gives AHS ability in personalities: for each personality recognized here, there are many more enriching our school without reward, except for the best reward of all: the friendship of their fellow students.

Dear Genie:

I hope I have not delayed too long in sending you the results of my selections. Believe me, I really enjoyed the past few days and want to add that it has been a very pleasant experience. Selecting the Porker Queen was quite a task though.

I took the pictures plus the prospective pictures of the maids around to many of my classmates and to various members of our Varsity football team. With their help and my final judgment, I present the winners in this order:

Phyllis Collins
Paula Addison
Camille Morris
Edye Addington
Brenda Beck

JOE BELLINO: ALL-AMERICAN HALFBACK FROM ANNAPOLIS

I hope that my selections do not leave you with a great big question mark about my "taste!" I feel that I have done my best and that I have been honest.

I am sending you pictures of me and my roommate, who was also instrumental in making the selections.

Again, Genie, it's been a pleasure; I hope you are satisfied and I further hope I don't get any disgruntled letters from the girls' boy friends!

Sincerely,

Joe Bellino

Organizations

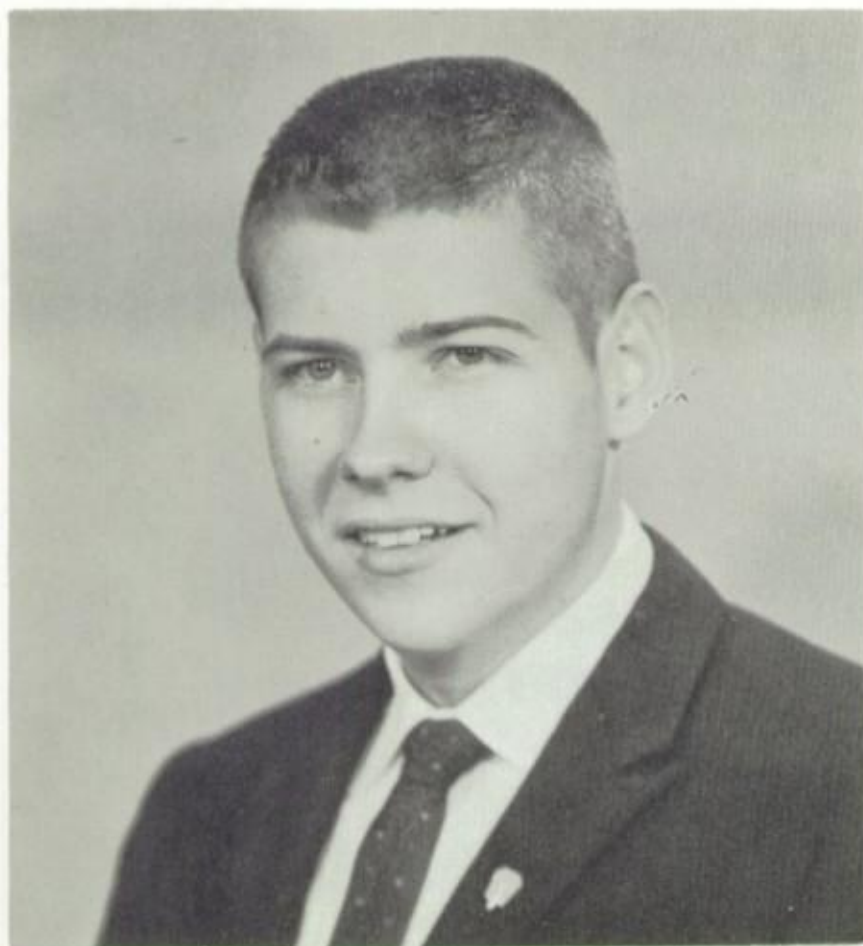

One of the main requirements for success is the ability to get along with and lead others. The various organizations at A.H.S. seek to develop these two important abilities in students by giving them the opportunity to take part in group activities. Good followers make good leaders, and those members of a club who work hard for the club and take a real interest in the club usually become a leader. True leadership is achieved only by seeking to guide others in the right direction, keeping the wishes of the group in mind at all times.

There are clubs at A.H.S. to meet every need and to serve every purpose: clubs which train for a profession, clubs which serve the school, clubs which serve outside the school, clubs in which the members profess a common interest, and the various musical groups which enrich the program of the school.

No one is required to join any club, but most students do join, because they wouldn't want to miss taking a part in the many club activities. Paradoxially, these activities would not exist without the support of the capable students who belong to the clubs. It is this ability of the students, therefore, that make the clubs as interesting and worthwhile as they are today.

Council

The Student Council is an organization of students who are elected by their fellow students to serve as their representatives in matters of concern to the entire school. Membership in the Council is limited to one member for every fifty members of the class. The Student Council provides a medium through which students may be heard and a forum for the consideration of school problems. It is a training ground for leaders and followers. The Student Council provides real situations, not practice ones, which are to be solved by its members.

Its activities include managing all regular school assemblies, and a special orientation assembly for sophomores; landscaping school grounds; taking care of bulletin boards; greeting new students; providing gum cans under water fountains; sponsoring talent shows; sponsoring the "White Christmas" program for the needy; arranging Teacher Appreciation Day and Dress-Up Day; revising the Student Handbook; and managing the Sportsmanship Program.

The Medical Club of Arkansas High has the distinction of being the only organization of its kind in the state of Arkansas. This club was formed seven years ago under the leadership of Mrs. Christina Rogers, and since that time has continued to function as one of the most active groups at AHS. The only requirement for membership is an interest in some field of medicine, and the members of the organization represent interests in such varied fields as psychiatry, laboratory research, and nursing. Each of the club's monthly meetings features a speaker in some field of medicine in which the members have professed an interest. The Medical Club numbers among its outside activities an annual tour of Wadley Hospital and frequent assistance at the Temple Memorial Home Crippled Children's Clinic.

The Americanism Club strives to build better citizens. In this club the students are able to acquire knowledge of the mechanics of government. To illustrate the opportunities of learning about Americanism, a panel discussion was given by delegates to Arkansas Girls' and Boys' State. Two programs featured speakers who explained the platforms of the two main political parties.

Throughout the year programs are given to emphasize the strengthening of youth for the future of America.

The Future Tradesmen is an organization designed especially for D.E., D.O., and trade students. The main objectives of this organization are to promote a spirit of workmanship and to increase knowledge of business, industrial, and civic organization. The club endeavors to develop character, thrift, and leadership among its members.

Several activities are planned throughout the year for the club. A Christmas banquet was held at the Sahara Restaurant on December 19, 1960. Each year delegates are chosen to attend the state convention, held in Little Rock, Arkansas, and the national convention held in Kansas City, Kansas. A scrapbook is kept throughout the year to record club activities.

Organizations In Action

Many organizations work to make the activities at Arkansas High School outstanding events. In the fall when the students gather at Buhrman Field to see the Razorbacks in action, the Band, Red Jackets, and Cheerleaders add to the excitement by their cheering and by their performances at the half-time.

Joanna's story of Madja, the little immigrant girl, moved us all at the Thanksgiving assembly, one of the many programs carefully and attractively planned by the Student Council.

The Future Scientists received their new charter making them members of the F.S.A.

Performing a valuable public service, volunteers from the Medical Club assisted at the Crippled Children's Clinic regularly.

One of the highlights of the school year was the formal Home Economics Tea honoring the seniors and faculty.

The Future Teachers had a chance to do some real teaching several times during the year at the local elementary schools.

A busy Speech Club had many activities. The Christmas party offered "unusual entertainment" for members and guests.

From "Toys for Tots" to engines for autos — no job is too large an undertaking for the auto mechanic "grease monkeys."

While the teachers enjoyed the tea given for them on Teacher Appreciation Day, Student Council members worked hard behind the scenes.

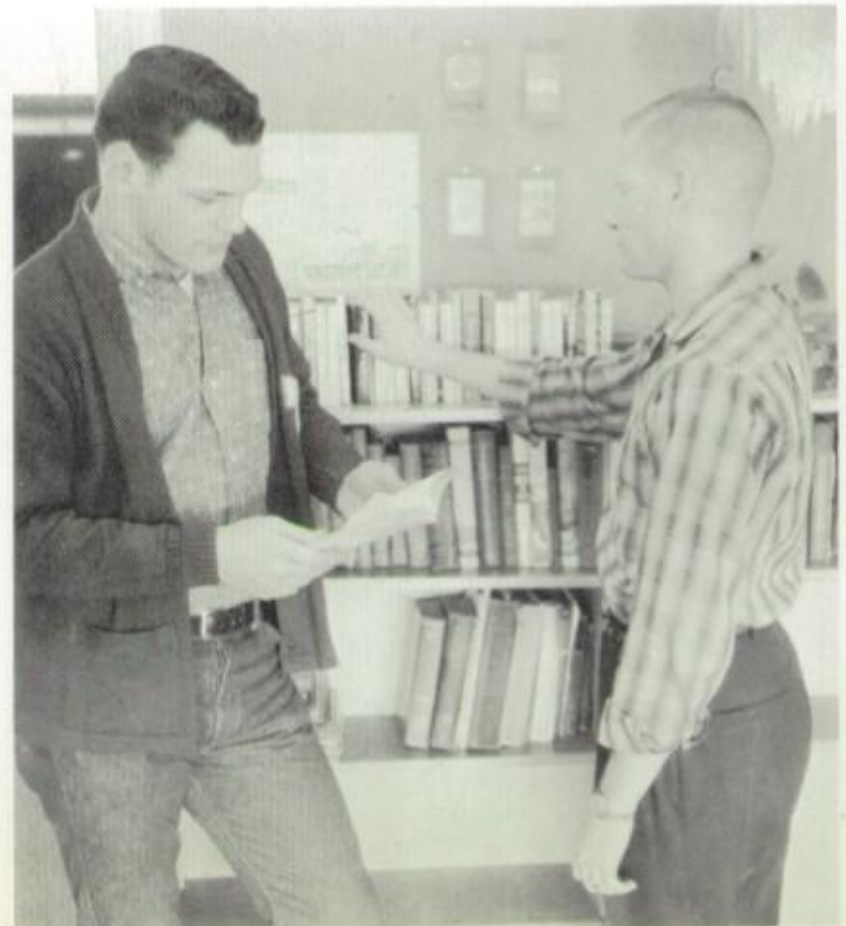

Ancient Rome came to life again when members of the Latin Club donned their costumes.

Members of the Future Tradesmen are off for an afternoon in the Business world.

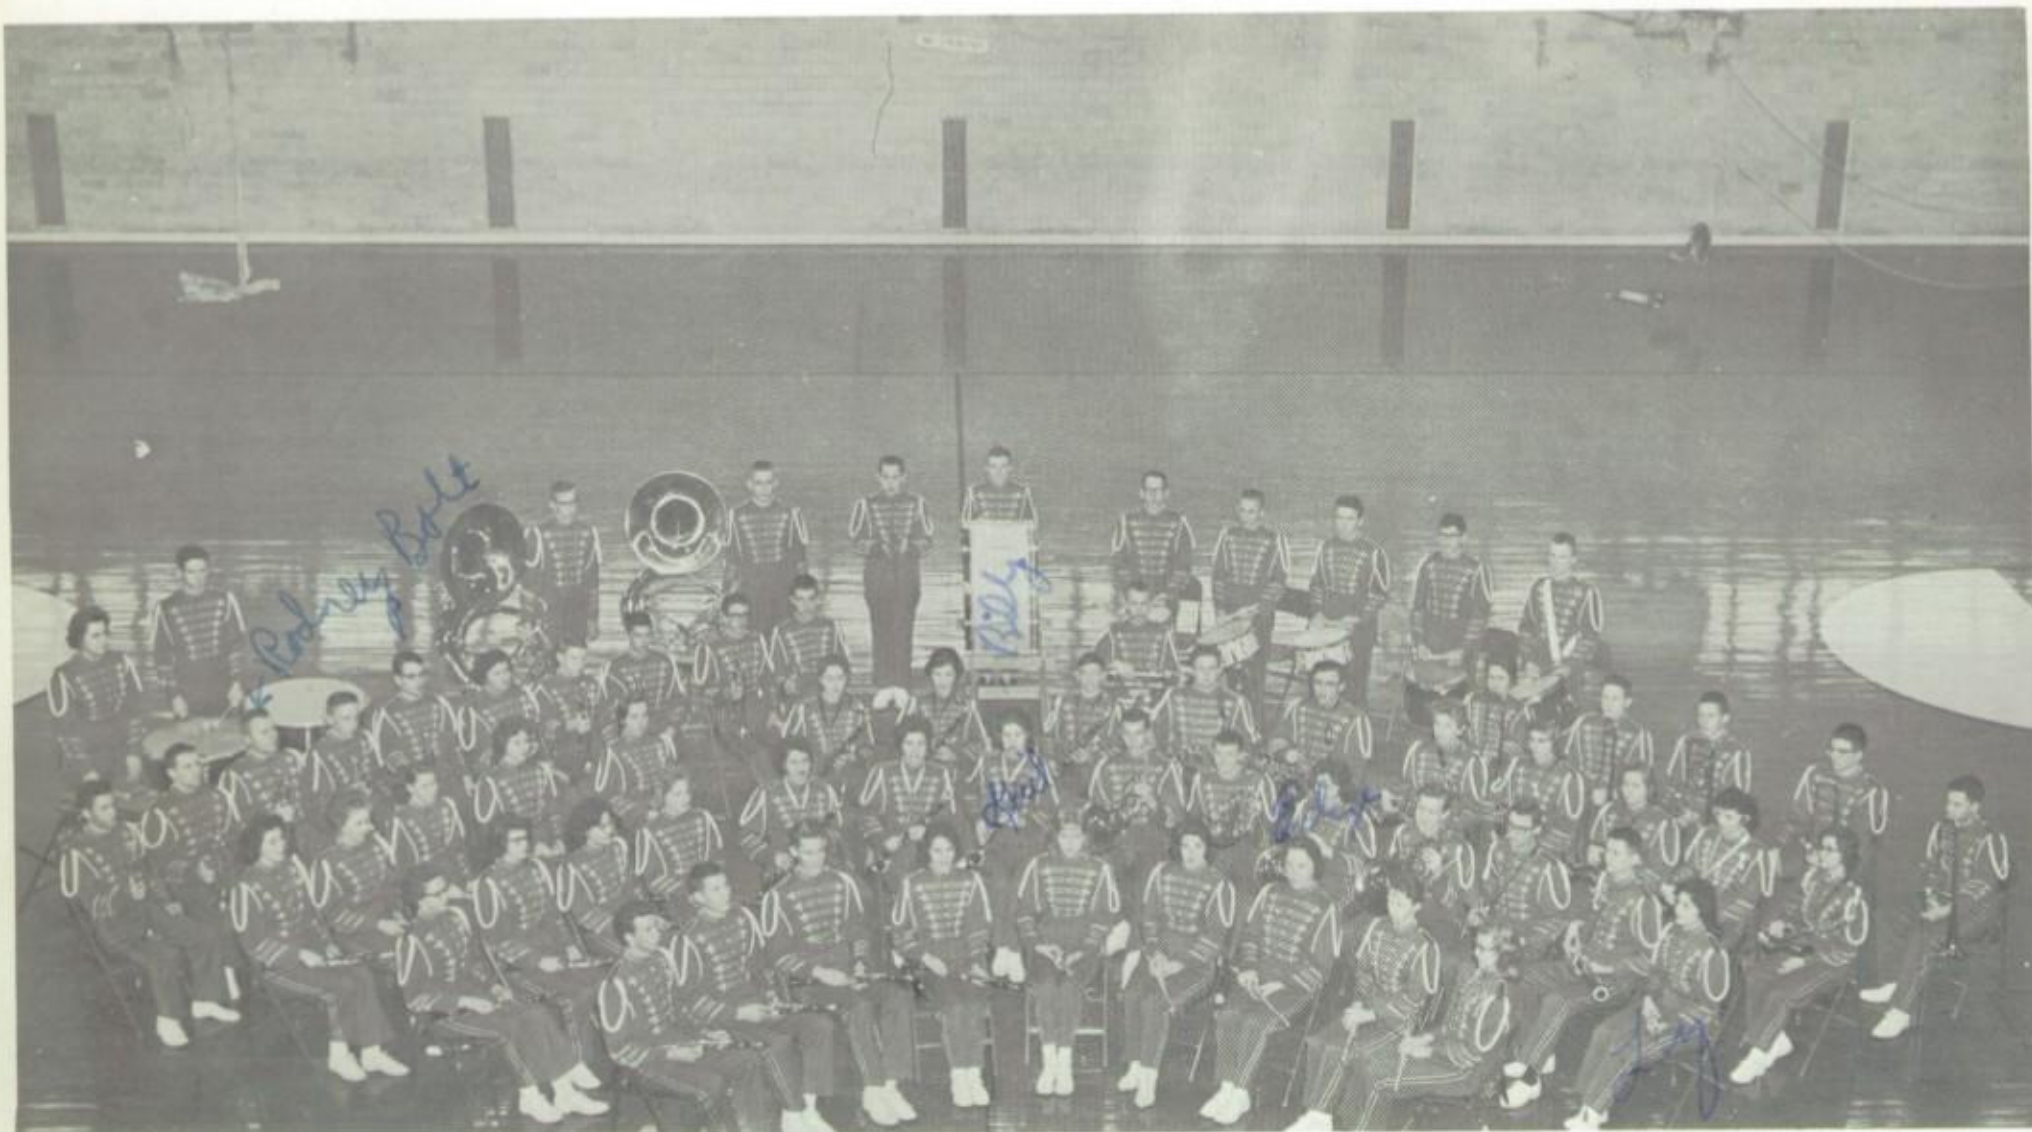

Many students purchased books from the Book Fair sponsored throughout the year by the National Honor Society.

Student Productions

Ability in Student Productions

It is in student productions that the students of AHS are given the opportunity of showing their full ability, for student productions, as the name states, are created and carried out by the students themselves. Every school-spirited student will take some part — in the spotlight or behind the scenes — in some student production, be it talent show or tea, play or publication, because he will want to contribute something of himself to his school, realizing that "We receive but what we give." In this section we have also included the honors received by AHS students for various endeavors, for these endeavors are just another type of student production.

We believe that the harder a person works on a student production, the better it is. That is why we feel that the student productions this year showed so much ability — the conscientious, patient students behind them, and the hard-working teacher-sponsors. Since the Porker itself is one of these student productions, we especially hope you like them, too.

Quill and Scroll

The Quill and Scroll Society is an international honorary society for high school journalists, which recognizes outstanding achievement in either the business or editorial side of journalism.

The purposes of this organization are to advance the ethical standing of professional journalism by instilling in the high school journalist a keener knowledge of an appreciation for his field, to promote unprejudiced thinking, to secure forceful writing, and to encourage high standards of scholarship among students.

Those eligible for membership in this organization are students in the upper third of their class who have displayed their devotion to these ideals through outstanding work on The Razorback.

A H S STUDENTS RECEIVE AWARDS

Charles Crowell — Scholarship Winner

Genie Dickey — Scholarship Winner

Jim Purifoy — Finalist

Sandra Smith — Scholarship Winner

FOUR A.H.S. STUDENTS NAMED FINALISTS IN NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION. Four students, Charles Crowell, Genie Dickey, Jim Purifoy, and Sandra Smith, have been named finalists by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. This is the highest number of finalists ever produced by any one class in our school. These four represent part of one half of one per cent of all high school seniors in the United States. Finalists are chosen on the basis of results from two tests, the N.M.S.C. qualifying test and the College Board Entrance Examination.

One senior, Linda Dagenhart, has received special commendation for exceptional scholarship by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The certificate can be sent to the college of the student's choice as recommendation for admission.

Ten A.H.S. seniors have made 99+ percentile on the Cooperative School and College Ability Test taken by the entire senior class. This is the highest possible ratio. The students who received this are as follows: John Cauthron, Charles Crowell, Linda Dagenhart, Genie Dickey, Mary Louise Keller, Billy Mallett, Charlie Matlock, Jim Purifoy, and Sandra Smith. Two other students, Marcia Kemp and Patricia Reid, came very close to this rating with a 99 percentile.

Dear Gary,

Now that it is time to write this I hardly know what to say. There is so much to say but when it comes to putting it in writing it just doesn't come to me. It would take every page in ~~any~~^{this} annual to say all the things I feel about you - but I have only one.

The year we have spent going together has been wonderful. You have helped me in so many ways. I often wonder where or what I'd be if it hadn't been for you. I know that what you have given me is something that can never be taken away and I know that I shall never change again (to the way I was). So lets forget the past.

Gary, make the very best of your Senior year. It really passes fast and all the things you think you wanted to do have come and gone and its too late. Take advantage of every opportunity you have. I know I don't need to tell you this because you have a mind of your own and you are smart enough to know what to do.

Don't ever think you are going to get to Narrows this summer without me! I won't let you go and find another Leri or Joan like you did last year. I am honestly not a very good skier (I can't spell) so lets don't challenge each other - you are champion.

You are a very good basketball and baseball player. I hope your season next year is the very best. I feel sure it will be.

You are a very sweet and wonderful person and I feel honored and lucky to have gone with you this long, I only hope it is longer. I will not say I hope you succeed in everything you do because I know you will. I couldn't know a better person. The very best of luck. Behave yourself and have fun next year, flirt!

Love you,
Betty
